EDUCATION.

English Boarding, and day Seminary for young Ladies.

226 calle Parque

Mrs. Davis, late of Leeds, has latterly solicited, by several friends, to commence an establishment, of the above kind, begs to intimate to Parents and Guardians, that on the first of February next, she will open a Boarding, and day Seminary, for young Ladies, in the large, commodious, self-contained House No. 226 calle de Parque, which for situation privacy and comfort cannot be surpassed.

Mrs. Davis has procured the assistance of a highly accomplished young lady to co-operate with her.

The engagement, which is only to be engaged, and no exertion, or expense spared to render the course of studies thoroughly efficient, to give a well grounded, sound and practical education to those placed under her charge.

Parents may rest assured that every care and attention will also be paid to the deportment and comfort of the resident pupils, so as to render the establishment, more like a home, than a public Seminary.

Cards containing terms can be had on application at the above address.

HINTS FOR DR. ALSINA

It is impossible, we confess, to speak of camp abuses with cool moderation or measured epithets.

In spite of the slander, calumny and unjust opprobium launched against us by some colleagues, our motive in publishing social scandals proceeds from a desire to reform the same by a wholesome exposure to the light, not from any insensate or ingrafted hostility to the Argentine race or customs.

With truth it may be said that the rural population of Buenos Aires is placed on a footing, and treated politically, as a medium between the Indians and civilized men. Making every allowance for the effects of civil war, the scattered condition of the settlers the distance from all administrative centre &c., &c is still a disgrace to the New World that ignorance, crime, and paganism, are so prevalent in this province. Although loth to submit these patent assertions, our Government is, happily, persuaded of their truth, and Dr. Alsina's task, if well executed, will fill a void more dangerous than that which swallowed up Quintus Curtius, in the Roman Forum.

Pulperias, fiscal and nutritious, are the prolific source of robberies, quarrels, murders &c. throughout our camps, and it is necessary to cut off the evil in the root by abolishing or restricting so nefarious an occupation. In Entre Rios and Banda Oriental they have very wisely prohibited such foci of disorder in the lonely highways for it is dangerous not only to enter, but even pass near, these haunts of bloodshed. If an order were enforced closing all pulperias where murders have taken place, not a dozen would remain in this province, to alarm the traveller or put the vicinity with vagabond horse-stealers. It is notorious that the so way-side dens of intoxication and riot are also receptacles of all stolen property and gauchó Bedouins or dishonest peons may plunder from the unfortunate, hard—working, Irish shepherd. Yet some one of our learned jurisconsults make a tour of the camp, and perhaps he will find the pulperias crowded with an assembly of ruffians, gambling, horse racing, betting, fighting with knives &c. We cannot oblige these fellows to go to church, hear the Christian Doctrine, or hear pious instruction, but we can and must, in duty, prevent such scenes of demoralization, as give us the proper type of a human fiend, revelling over his cups and the recital of bloody deeds. The Irishmen of G. Mon e stated that the murderer got amused himself at the pulperia races, two days after butchering his victims, and although this is officially contradicted by the late justice, we can form hereby an idea of the manners of such freemasonry these sabbath meetings. On a week ago we had the temerity to alight from our horse at a pulperia near Lomas de Zamora, and while opening a bottle of lemonade, one of the gaucho bystanders quietly remarked. "How I should like to flay alive that town-camp"! In fact, without a given point, either north, south, east or west, where the oldest inhabitant recollects theirs having grown, biscuches having bored, lagunas having existed, or water having run; thence in a zigzag style etc. etc. in question is surveyed, and the quantity of land, more or less, in question, measured and bounded. Estancias during the last twenty years have increased in value, but have diminished in size. This arises invariably from some neighbouring proprietor having previously had his so-called property surveyed, and thus, as the natives say, ganado el tiro. In such case, the only remedy is, to have recourse to the quack box of Cabildo pills, and a few three dollar blister stamps each day, until the suffering estanciero shows signs of improvement. If the above remedies produce no effect, then a few rough leeches, or a little escribano bleeding, may bring the patient to the desired crisis.

CAMP CATECHISM.

Question—What is the most movable thing in the camp? A.—Mojones, or boundary marks of property. Q.—Where is the best and securest place to put down a mojon? A.—In your neighbour's land, because once being there, it requires a cabildo spade to shovel to remove it, whilst on the contrary, if placed on one's own property, it is liable to be moved about in the topographical wheelbarrow, on the arrival of every "agrimensor" in the city. What is an "agrimensor?"—One whose duty it is to measure his employer's camp, with a view to run the line in as far as possible on the adjoining property, and diminish little bit by little bit, which, belonging to no one, revert to himself.

What are the peculiar objects of measuring lands in this country?—To run every distance in the immediate vicinity, set peace-able neighbours fighting, lay claim to property which hitherto the right owners were in possession of, give employment to the law pettyfogging and "escribanos" in town, and frighten parties, who dislike going to law, into favorable compromises.

What is the object of a Mojon?—To show parties the proper place to feed their sheep, mares and cows, and inspire them with that meritorious spirit of economizing their own camp, at their neighbour's expense.

What are these important and useful Mojones or land-marks, made of?—This entirely depends upon the taste of the estanciero: some place iron posts, others trenchwellers find convenient to their purposes; others place stones, which serve as knife-sharpeners for vagrant gauchos, whilst others select cows or horses' heads, as being cheap, commodious and useful—although, because they are to be got everywhere in the camp; commodious, because they are portable, and can be removed every week or oftener if requisite, and useful, inasmuch as they make comfortable Argentine rocking-chairs in the sanctuary of the ordinary establishments throughout the country.

Are there no other mojones in use, save those hereinbefore mentioned?—Yes, there are. This is a question which requires a chapter to each of such mojones and arroyo mojones, which, owing to adverse circumstances, have ceased to exist on the lands, but are most usefully employed in the cigar paper title-deeds of the owners.

In such cases, how is property measured?—By starting at any known point, either north, south, east or west, where the oldest inhabitant recollects theirs having grown, biscuches having bored, lagunas having existed, or water having run; thence in a zigzag style etc. etc. in question is surveyed, and the quantity of land, more or less, in question, measured and bounded. Estancias during the last twenty years have increased in value, but have diminished in size. This arises invariably from some neighbouring proprietor having previously had his so-called property surveyed, and thus, as the natives say, ganado el tiro. In such case, the only remedy is, to have recourse to the quack box of Cabildo pills, and a few three dollar blister stamps each day, until the suffering estanciero shows signs of improvement. If the above remedies produce no effect, then a few rough leeches, or a little escribano bleeding, may bring the patient to the desired crisis.

BRITISH HOSPITAL.

A General meeting of the subscribers to the British Hospital was held on the 12th current, and at which there was a numerous attendance.

FRANK PARISH Esq. in the chair.

He addressed the meeting in a few words, congratulating them on the numerous attendance, showing thereby their interest in the welfare of the Institution, which he was happy to say continued to be of such great benefit to the community; full particulars of the management of the past year they would learn from the report of the trustees, which the secretary would read to them. He then read some of the Treasurers accounts and stated that the books and all particulars relating to expenditure and receipts, were on the table for their inspection. He congratulated them on the exertions of their trustees during the past year, under the many difficulties they had to contend with.

Mr. Getting then read the following report, many portions of which were received with hearty applause.

Secretary's Report.

At a general meeting of the subscribers of the British Hospital, held on the 9th January last, it was announced that the patients had recently been removed to the new building, Calle Bolivar. Your trustees have since been constantly occupied in completing the buildings and making various alterations and repairs, which were found absolutely necessary in the Institution, such as keeping new doors and venetians placed to the south side and repairing of the wood work generally; building up a wall at foot of the hill towards Calle de la Defensa, placing a new kitchen range &c particulars of all which will be found in Treasurer's accounts; numerous additions and repairs are still required, but the extent of the available funds do not, in the opinion of the Trustees, justify any enlargement or alteration of the buildings such as might otherwise be desirable.

The aid and relief afforded by the Institution to the British and other applicants, is shewn in the statement and report drawn up by the Resident surgeon and shows that 229 patients have been admitted since last general meeting (a far greater number than in any previous year); of these 169 cured have left the Hospital, 19 have died, and 36 remained in the House on the 31st ulto. To-day the number is 44 p cients. The number of patients continues to increase and as many as 47 have been under treatment at same time.

Dr Fair left this for England in August last, and Dr. Leeson acted as visiting physician, from that date: but after four months trial Dr. Leeson informed the trustees that his attendance at the Institution interfered with his private prac tice, and requested to be relieved of the charge. The Trustees accepted his resignation and the Institution at that date being very short of funds, the Trustees addressed the following letter to all the English Medical gentlemen in this city.

"Dear sir.

Dr. A. E. Leeson who, since the departure of Dr. Fair, has acted as consul ing Physician to the British Hospital, has recently informed the Trustees that after a few months trial, he finds the engagement too great a tax upon his time and it is with great regret that we lose his valuable regular attendance.

"The present very low state of the Finances of the Institution, will not allow of the Trustees seeking to fill up his post, nor indeed with our present able resident Medical Officer Dr. Reid, do we think it imperative to do so, if the English Medical Gentlemen accede to the present request of the Trustees viz: That in all cases of emergency or operations you will kindly allow your name to be placed on the list of those to whom Dr. Reid can apply to assist gratuitously at the British Hospital.

"We must mention, that Dr. Leeson has offered his services in this form, and the Trustees earnestly hope that you will accede to their request in favor of so valuable an Institution.

We have &c.

The Trustees have much gratification in saying that all the gentlemen applied to, acceded to this request, and have readily assisted when called upon.

The Trustees finding that the expenses of the Institution were in excess of their revenue, did all in their power to reduce the expenditure, and finally resolved to do away with the post of matron (whose expense was more than the Institution could afford). The economical department has since been placed under the control of Dr. Reid, and the expenditure is since considerably under the average of preceding years.

Since the change referred to, the Hospital business has gone on to the entire satisfaction of the Trustees, and the resident surgeon Dr. Reid has been most zealous in advancing the interests of the Institution; we have every hope that under his direction your Hospital will continue to pro per.

The post of matron, with ample funds, might be of advantage to the Institution, but during the last 12 months there have been only 5 female patients, of which 2 were foreigners, and should any female patien s apply, there is at present an old resident female patient in the Institution to attend, or should it be found necessary, a nurse could be taken in temporarily

The trustees venture to recommend that the present system have a fair trial in order to reduce the expenditure on a par with revenue, which, with an efficient head steward, Dr. Reid informs us he can accomplish as he has already done.

Your Trustees would most seriously call the attention of the public to the very small amount of subscription, which is inadequate to the requirements of the necessitous patients supplying for admission to the Institution.

During the last year, the total amount of sub-cription has been only $57,70 —while the average number of nonpay patients per month has been 16, costing 168 per diem, and equal per annum to $60,400 for maintenance and medicines only. Unless the public are willing to support this Institution more liberally, it will be impossible to afford assistance to all really deserving persons, and thus much reduce the proposed utility of this valuable establis ment. The Trustees would urge on the public the necessity of increasing their subscriptions which should be at least doubled in order to maintain the establishment in full efficiency, which would be of such incalculable benefit to the sick and destitute of their fellow countrymen, and they earnestly call for increased support, to an object so worthy.

Had i not been for the noble act of generosity exercised towards the Institu ion by Mr. Charles J. Rogers, of the Great Ocean Circus, your Trustees would have b en in great straits for funds, even for the ordinary expenses. Mr. Charles J. Rogers as is already known to you, in the most liberal and handsome manner, gave a representation, at his circus, entirely free of expenses, the to al Gross proceeds being for the joint benefit of the British Hospital and Sociedad de Beneficencia; the amount realized was $62,170 one h lf of wh i h appears in Treasurer's account, and your Trustees, wishing to commemorate this event, have de ermined to erect a tablet in the Hall of the Institution, recording this act of beneficence on the part of Mr. Rodgers.

The Trustees have also received an offer from the gentlemen composing the Glee Club, to give a musical entertainm nt, for the benefit of your Institution and which they trust will be duly appreciated and supported by the public whenever such an entainment may be announced.

The Trustees feel bound to call special attention to the very valuable assistance and co-operation they have had from Mr. Seymour.

The piece of land near the Hueco de Cabecitas is now on sale and will probably be realized shortly, the proceeds of which will go to the building fund, for alterati n and repairs required in the Institution.

The Trustees desire to express their high esteem of your Resident Surgeon Dr. Reid, who has fully borne out the strong recommendation he brought from Dr. Spence and other high authorities his constant and ind fatigable attention at the Institution being most praiseworthy. Very many of the patients after leaving, have called upon your secretary to return thanks, and express their gratitude for his unremitting care and kindness.

The Trustees desire to express their recognition of the services and liberality on the part of the Editors of the STANDARD, for their gratuitous publication of all notices relating to the Hospital and supplying a copy of their paper, for the use of patients in the Institution, free of expense.

D. Gifford—W. Thompson—E. J. Getting—Edward Seymour

After the reading of this report, some general Remarks on the part of several gentlemen present took place, and the following motions were proposed and carried.

Pr posed by Mr. McClymont,

Seconded by Mr. Brown.

That the report and accounts of the trustees be approved and adopted, and that they be p blished for general information.

Passed by a majority

Proposed by Mr. Henry Smith,

Seconded by Mr. Hall.

That the thanks of the meeting be given to the trustees, for their zeal and energy in attending to the interests of the Hospital, during their term of office.

Passed by a majority.

Proposed by M. Harrat,

Seconded by Mr. Ramsay.

That the th nks of the meeting be given to H. B. M's Consul, Frank Parish Esq., for his conduct in the chair, and continued exertions in favor of the Institution

Passed unanimously.

LOCAL EVENTS.

BO SA MEETING take pl ce to morrow, at 2 o'clock p m. All members are requested to attend, as the business to be tr nsacted is of an important nature.

PRINTING OFFICES. — Besides the materials we have received from England, and others which we are expecting shortly f om United States or Continental ports of the S g o has received a complete printing establishment and Messrs Rossi Brothers another M ssrs Lechbin and Bonco h ve obtained from the Government the public trans f the official register.

MERCEDES Banda Oriental, three assassinations have taken place in eight days. The play, it continued, will depopulate the district.

IMMIGRATION. Seventy immigrants arrived on Thursday from Germ n in the Italian ship Italy: another v ssel arrived yesterday with e num ber at them, which we have not yet ascertained.

JEAN VALJEAN. We must not omit to mention the proximate performance of this drama at Colon on Thursday.

It is taken from "Les Miserables" of Victor Hugo and according to competent persons who have seen the copy it is very creditable to its author Dr. Carlos Paz.

CONGRESS.—It is decided that the house for Congress will be built in the Plaza 28 de Mayo at the old barracks of the second regiment of National Guards.

PASSENGERS.—During the first fortnight of this month the number of tickets sold by the Northern railroad has been 2970 first class.

TIGERS.—We have been informed that a pleasure party in a canoe a few days ago, came unexpectedly on a large tiger which was quietly reposing on the bank.

One of the passengers a respectable lady of the city was so frightened that she fell into the water and was got out with some difficulty, the hero of the event looking on unconcernedly during the interval. The party immediately returned home for their muskets and when they came back again the tiger turned into a thicket and disappeared.

According to private information there are others wandering about in the vicinity, a one from the islands probably to feast on a large number of tame and wild pigs kept in Mr. Milberg's establishment close by.

LATOR.—A friend of ours, a few nights ago, happened to pass by the market-place, near where two men were fighting, and had the misfortune to get a stab from one of them in the stomach, which very fortunately did not penetrate deep.

The most curious part the affair is that he did not attempt to speak or interfere, but chanced to pass close by, when one of them stretched out his arm and wounded him.

No pol ce appeared on the scene of battle.

GLEE CLUB.—We understand Mr Hector McKern is about to invite his brother choristers to a pic-nic, having lately drawn 260 doubloons in the Montevideen lottery.

OCEAN CIRCUS. From press of matter we have been prevented notic ng the first-rate performances of Thursday night Balsamo's donkey was the great treat: the gaucho [Martin], an Irishman and a darky sac essively attempted, in vain. The first made a dozen obstinate efforts, holding on remarkable well, till capsized. The second rode half round. The third ran away in flight.

COMMERCIAL NEWS

Extract from

Goad, Rigg & Cos.

River Plate notice for December 1862.

The sales of Salted Hides during the past month have been considerable and Hungary and the Baltic States have lately sold at an advance of 1/8d of the latter this market is now clear of heavy ox

One party bought upwards of 2½, 000 hides here and in the Liverpool from West of England has produced a better feeling in the Market, and our stock is much reduced we do not expect prices to be low until larger supplies effect them at the same time we do not see anything in the trade calculated to raise them much, if any higher thoughthe the stock decreases some slight advance may occasionally be got before the fresh supplies come in.

The trade continues in a healthy state and though leather is not moving freely, the Tenders are doing a steady remunerative business.

Horse hides are not in active demand, but the prices keep firm and the stock is small.

The prospects are favourable to a steady demand in the spring.

Hair has not move briskly; the manufacturers appear to be well supplied and require time to work it.

Native skins, several orders arriving from America lately, produced a brisk demand for the article which cleared on the spot at full prices, but the latter sales were made at an advance of 1d for lb,

Tallow. The prices of this article have been creeping all the month.

Holders of the stock of Russian ,O dessa and Taganrog said only because anxious] sellers and they have been forcing sales every week, by auction a declining prices This arises from the increased consumption of American oil and reduced demand for Foreign tallow, which appears to have stunned the Russian Holders and checked all speculation for the present. There is a report current that the oil springs in America have dried up, if this turns out correct it may n to check the downward tendency but now pervades the tallow market, but nothing except speculation can raise the price until the stocks are materially reduced.

The demand for all descriptions of Hair was very limited to-day, and only a small portion of the quantity offered could be sold. Tail Hair generally 1½d ars per lb lower. Very little bidding for good to fine Mixed Tail, and middling sorts sold, in most cases 1½d to, 1½d per lb. in favor of buyers.

TEN THOUSAND POUNDS —We read in the Reforma. that an Englishman has offered the above sum for the ball extracted from Garibaldi's foot; he has more money than wit.

BALLS.—Two grand balls came off last night, at the Flores Club, and Belgrano. A special train conveyed amateurs to the latter destination Strange, that an English Company advertised the fact only in the Spanish papers.

DIED,

At Dublin on the 4 Dec. Sir Timothy O'Brien Bern ex- Lord mayor and father of Mr. O'Brien Argentine Consul in said City.
